PREAMBLE AMBLE

The Board of the General Audit Chamber approved the project "Administrative Appointments" in 2016. With this project, the General Audit Chamber investigates which persons occupy supervisory board member positions (or similar functions) from 2014 going forward. In conducting this investigation, we focus on the actions of the respective minister responsible for appointments. The minister who represents a government entity is one of the responsible parties (if not the most important party), and must - at all times - be able to provide insight into the appointment process. Political appointments, conflicts of interest and dishonest acts should be avoided. The objective should be the placement of the most qualified person(s) in (a) suitable position(s). This is particularly necessary in the case of government-owned companies where remittances to government can amount to millions. In other words, there is a lot at stake. As with our 2014 report entitled "Baseline Study Sint Maarten, state of affairs institutional integrity management 2014", we once again address the topic of integrity.

As with our 2014 report entitled "Baseline Study Sint Maarten, state of affairs institutional integrity management 2014", we once again address the topic of integrity.

SUMMARY

Lack of transparency in administrative appointments of supervisory board members constitutes a threat to the integrity of government. After St. Maarten obtained the status of country within the Kingdom, legislation came into effect with the aim of achieving effective business practices.

During our audit, we found that:

- 1. there is little, if any, transparency concerning the appointment procedure;
- 2. politically motivated appointments are possible;
- 3. supervisory board members are often involved in important decision-making; and
- 4. security screenings are not applicable for supervisory board members.

The lack of transparency is worrisome. As we indicated in our report "Baseline Study Sint Maarten, state of affairs institutional integrity management 2014", we believe integrity (and therefore the transparency of the actions of the minister) is a prerequisite for confidence in government.

During the audit, we repeatedly requested information from ministers regarding the names of members of supervisory boards (or similar bodies). Obtaining information proved difficult. Deadlines for the submission of information were often exceeded, or even ignored. In that regard, we feel that the ministers in question displayed a disregard for our authority as stipulated by the National ordinance General Audit Chamber. Ultimately, we were able to obtain the information through other means, such as through interviews and from public sources (for example: Chamber of Commerce and publicly available annual reports). We present our results in this report.

We list (as much as possible) the names of the members of the supervisory boards (or related bodies) of the 35 entities reviewed. The entities are listed in Annex 1. Regarding the government-owned companies and foundations, we investigated whether the appointment procedure was correctly applied. Ministers were asked to verify the findings stated in the report. The Minister of General Affairs was the only minister who responded.

We are of the opinion that articles 8 and 9 of the National ordinance Corporate Governance, which describe the appointment- and profile procedures, are unclear. Adjusting the ordinance to clearly define the authorities of the minister is advisable.

We were unable to establish whether the Corporate Governance Council provided the legally required advice for 22 of 44 persons reviewed in our investigation. We also determined that security screenings are not applicable for supervisory board members (or related bodies), with one exception; the board of the General Pension Fund Sint Maarten.

Entities of major economic and strategic value should not be allowed to negatively impact the country's finances, especially in light government's present precarious financial situation. Compliance with regulations related to effective business practices, transparency and integrity, is therefore essential.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Regarding the role of ministers, we issue the following recommendations:

- ensure that the representing minister is aware of his rights and obligations, and encourage government-owned companies and foundations to provide documentation (such as annual reports and accounts) in a timely manner, as well as in accordance with the laws and articles of incorporation;
- make sure that the process of appointment is transparent, and that information regarding an appointment is always available;
- rescind the National ordinance Corporate Governance of the Netherlands Antilles, if this has not yet been accomplished;
- adjust article 9 of the National ordinance Corporate Governance so that the article is unambiguous in terms of the authority of the minister regarding the appointment of (or a recommendation to appoint) a board member. The same should be done for article 8 which regulates the authority of the minister in determining the procedural rules and establishing the profile of board members;
- require mandatory security screenings for supervisory board functions; and
- modify the National Decree establishing confidential functions and conducting security screenings, to easily allow the additions of new entities when necessary. Consider establishing a committee similar to the appointment committee for the Electoral Council. This committee will determine which functions are designated as confidential functions based on established criteria.

Regarding Parliament, we make the following recommendation:

• ensure that the minister representing a government-owned entity, correctly applies the appointment procedure. The communication and advices from the Corporate Governance Council should be used to support this effort.

1. THE AUDIT

With this report of the General Audit Chamber (hereinafter: Audit Chamber), we address the subject of the appointments of persons in supervisory boards (or similar entities) of government-owned companies and foundations. The Audit Chamber investigated whether the representing minister(s) correctly applied the procedure as stipulated in the National ordinance Corporate Governance (hereinafter: NOCG). The point of departure for our audit was the year 2014. We focused on the execution of the authority of the responsible minister(s), and not on the authority of the entity, the supervisory board members or the council members themselves.

1.1 THE BASIS FOR THE AUDIT

It is clear that in cases where the appointment procedure of the NOCG is applicable, the minister must comply. In this report, we establish that the minister may ultimately deviate from the recommendation of the Corporate Governance Council (hereinafter: CGC).<sup>2</sup> Such a deviation is lawful.

However, the appointment procedure must be transparent and carried out in keeping with the principles of integrity. As such, we address the subject of good governance. After all, it remains within the purview of the minister to appoint a person of his choosing because he can deviate from the advice of the CGC. We have therefore chosen to conduct an integrity audit<sup>3</sup> that includes regulatory aspects.

1.2 PURPOSE OF THE AUDIT

The audit has multiple objectives. First of all, we wish to establish whether appointments were done in accordance with the correct procedure. Where applicable, we reviewed the use of mandatory security screenings.

We also sought to identify which persons served on what supervisory board in the period 2014 to date. Based on that overview, we reviewed the applicability of the NOCG appointment procedure, as well as compliance with said procedure. Our review allows us to establish the level of transparency of the procedure. We have tried to report using information that is as up-to-date as possible (cutoff period coincides with the end of the consultation period at the end of September, 2016).

1.3 AUDIT QUESTIONS

In this report we attempt to answer to the following questions:

- 1. Who are the supervisory board members and council members of government-owned entities, organizations falling within the collective sector, as well as other entities from 2014 to date?
- 2. Did the representing minister act in accordance with the laws and regulations related to the appointment of supervisory board members and council members?

1.4 AUDIT FRAMEWORK

We reviewed the following entities<sup>4</sup>:

- Entities in the collective sector: every two years, the Minister of Interior and Kingdom Relations and the Minister of Finance of St. Maarten designate certain legal entities as belonging to the collective sector.<sup>5</sup> These legal entities form the collective sector. Establishment of the collective sector is important for the borrowing capacity of St. Maarten.
- 1. In this report we used AB 2013, GT no. 19, which is the former Island ordinance Corporate Governance.
- 2. Article 9, fifth paragraph, of the National ordinance Corporate Governance.
- 3. Article 33, first paragraph, of the National ordinance General Audit Chamber.
- 4. The names of all entities that fall within our audit scope are listed in Annex 1.
- 5. Article 23 of the Kingdom Act Financial Supervision Curação and Sint Maarten.

The entities that fall within the collective sector are<sup>6</sup>:

- Uitvoeringsorgaan Sociale- en Ziektekosten Verzekeringen Sint Maarten
- Marven N.V.
- Sint Maarten Laboratory Services N.V.
- Stichting Overheidsgebouwen Sint Maarten
- Foundation Upkeep Sports Facilities
- Small Business Development Foundation
- Stichting Vrijwilligerskorps Sint Maarten
- Stichting Sport Ontwikkeling
- Sint Maarten Development Fund
- Mental Health Foundation
- Sint Maarten Medical Center
- Stichting Sint Maarten Student Support Services
- Gouvernement Opvoedings Gesticht
- Stichting Justitiële Inrichtingen Bovenwinden
- Bureau Telecommunicatie & Post
- Government-owned companies: these are companies in which government holds an interest. The 2014 financial statements of the country<sup>7</sup> contain an overview of the government-owned companies.<sup>8</sup>

Other entities:

General Pension Fund St. Maarten (APS): government is obligated to pay pension premiums based on the gross salary of public servants.<sup>10</sup>

High Councils of State (with the exception of Parliament and the Ombudsman): Board- and council members receive remuneration from public funds. There is no board or council for the Ombudsman and as such, this entity is excluded from our investigation.

Social Economic Council: a permanent advisory body of government. Board members receive remuneration from public funds.

Electoral Council: members of this council receive remuneration from public funds. As such, they form a part of this investigation.

Corporate Governance Council: members of this council received financial advances from public funds.

The appointment procedure of the NOCG is not applicable on the 'other entities'. We elected to only list the names of the board members. The information is presented in Annex 1.

1.5 CONTENT

In chapter 2 we provide an overview of all supervisory board members and council members. Annex 1 is an important element in this regard. In addition to the names, we cite the source of our information and, where possible, we indicate the date of appointment and resignation of members. We also note that there are possibly two National ordinances Corporate Governance currently in force. The chapter concludes with a paragraph regarding the absence of security screenings for members of supervisory boards.

Chapter 3 provides an explanation of Corporate Governance. The role of the CGC is discussed in relation to the NOCG. We explain the concept of (co-)decision authority of a minister as this relates to the appoint procedure. The role of the Council for financial supervision (hereinafter: College financial toezicht - Cft) in terms of Corporate Governance is found at the end of the chapter.

In Chapter 4 we report our audit results. We also present findings about the transparency of the process of administrative appointments. We conclude the chapter with the findings on other topics stemming from the audit.

The Minister of General Affairs responded to our report on September 8, 2016. Reactions from the remaining ministers have not been presented to us. The CGC provided input on September 23, 2016. We provide an epilogue based on the responses from both the Minister of General Affairs and the CGC. The epilogue can be found in Chapter 5.

2. THE SUPERVISORY BOARD AND COUNCIL MEMBERS AS OF 2014

In chapter 2, we provide a listing of the members of supervisory boards or councils for the period 2014 to date. We base our findings primarily on annual reports, financial statements, information from the Chamber of Commerce and other public sources. In cases where no annual report was available, we approached the entity directly requesting that they provide documentation and/or the names of the supervisory board members.

2.1 REQUESTING INFORMATION: ANNUAL REPORTS 2014

In mid-May 2016, we issued requests for information to all of the ministries concerning the appointments of supervisory board members and council members. Provision of information was at best sporadic. We cannot determine the reason for the lack of information. Deadlines for the submission of information were often exceeded or ignored.

In this regard, we feel that the ministers in question have shown a disregard for our authority as set forth in the National ordinance General Audit Chamber. It is a requirement to provide us with information. Due to this situation, we resorted to seeking information from other sources.

2.2 THE DATA ANALYSIS

The listing of persons holding supervisory functions is presented in Annex 1 of this report. The listing is organized, where available, by name of the holder of a supervisory function for the period 2014 to date.

2.3 APPLICABILITY OF TWO NATIONAL ORDINANCES CORPORATE GOVERNANCE?

The Island ordinance Corporate Governance came into force on May 11, 2009, for the Island Territory of St. Maarten.<sup>11</sup>

In addition, the National ordinance on Corporate Governance of the Netherlands Antilles came into force on December 29, 2009.<sup>12</sup> Based on the National ordinance transitional legal and administrative provisions,<sup>13</sup> both the Island Ordinance Corporate Governance and the National ordinance Corporate Governance of the Netherlands Antilles (valid on Sint Maarten), came into force as of October 10, 2010. Figure 2 is a representation of the situation.

2.4 SUPERVISORY FUNCTIONS ARE NOT CONFIDENTIAL FUNCTIONS

The Security Service of St. Maarten (hereinafter: Veiligheidsdienst Sint Maarten - VDSM) conducts security screenings for persons who will or already hold vital functions. These functions are considered critical to the country or certain areas of the private sector. 14 The appendix to the National Decree establishing confidential functions and the conduct of security screenings (herein after: the National Decree confidential functions), lists the confidential functions. 15 The confidential functions that fall within our audit are presented in Figure 3.

Figure 3: Confidential functions that fall within the scope of our audit

Function	Reason for designation
Vice-Chair of the Council of Advice	Possibility of structural knowledge of highly confidential state secrets.
Chairman of the General Audit Chamber	Possibility of structural knowledge of highly confidential state secrets.
Board of the General Pension Fund	Vital function. Impairment of integrity.

The appendix is an integral part of the National Decree confidential functions. The National Decree security screenings needs to be amended if an expansion of the list in the appendix is necessary. 16 Required expansion may be necessary, for example, because of the establishment of new (vital) entities.

This procedure can lead to undesirable situations. New entities are currently not listed. The Bureau Intellectual Property and the Sint Maarten Tourism Authority are not on the list. A security screening is therefore not required. It was evident from the start that the list was not comprehensive. The ability to easily amend the list is a legislative oversight. 17

> AS long as functions within new entities are not designated as vital, security screenings do not apply.

<sup>16.</sup> In accordance with article 43 of the National ordinance Security Services Sint Maarten, confidential functions can also be designated in other national decrees, containing general measures. This is an undesirable situation and could result in a proliferation of confidential functions.

<sup>17.</sup> Interview with VDSM dated April 12, 2016. During the interview it was also indicated a project to evaluate the National Decree is ongoing.

We note that the list does not mention members of supervisory boards or similar bodies. These functions are not considered confidential functions, with one exception; board membership of the General Pension Fund. A supervisory board is primarily intended to exercise supervision of the governance of an institution in the interest of the community. 18 Supervisory board members often decide on the legal status of management, approve decisions and advise management. 19

A supervisory board -in many cases- will be aware of sensitive information or state secrets. The fact that in some cases supervisory board functions are not designated as vital, can be considered an omission.<sup>20</sup>

(candidate) member of a supervisory board is often aware of sensitive information and / or state secrets. He may be empowered to make important decisions. Such a person is not subject to a security screening.

The establishment of a committee tasked with designating vital functions, instead of a list, should be considered. Political influence should be avoided. The appointment committee of the Electoral Council can be used as an example.<sup>21</sup>

3. CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

Now that the persons holding supervisory board positions from 2014 have been identified, as listed in Annex 1, we turn our attention to the appoinment procedure.

In the negotiations for the attainment of Country status, it was agreed that Corporate Governance regulations would be enacted which meet internationally accepted standards. The explanatory notes of the Kingdom Act Financial Supervision Curação and Sint Maarten (hereinafter: Rft), confirms this.<sup>22</sup> The National ordinance Corporate Governance is an example of the required regulations.

Corporate governance regulates the relationship between the managing board (management), supervisory board and shareholder(s).<sup>23</sup> In this chapter we will make a distinction between government-owned companies and government controlled foundations.

3.1 THE ROLE OF THE CORPORATE GOVERNANCE COUNCIL

The NOCG regulates, among others, the establishment of the CGC, which as an independent body tasked with providing solicited and unsolicited advice to government.<sup>24</sup> The CGC advises on the dividend policy, acquisition or disposal of shares and the appointment or removal of (managing) board members.

3.2 APPLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ORDINANCE CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

The first thing that must be established is, 'when is the NOCG applicable'. It is therefore important to know the definitions of a board member, a foundation and a company. For the category 'other entities' used in our investigation, the NOCG definition does not apply, because they are neither foundations nor companies.

In accordance with the NOCG, the term board member refers to<sup>25</sup>:

"The statutory directors and members of the supervisory board of a company and the statutory directors and members of the supervisory board (or a similar body), of a foundation."

In accordance with the NOCG, the term foundation refers to:

"A foundation where a minister has the authority to decide on the appointment or removal of one or more board members, or has an authority regarding amending the articles of incorporation."

The NOCG, by virtue of article 1, applies to foundations where the minister has -simply stated- a (co-)decision authority, regarding the appointment of one or more board members or has an authority to amend the articles of incorporation. The term (co-)decision authority is explained in paragraph 3.3.

In accordance with the NOCG, the term company refers to:

"A limited or private company with the statutory seat in the country and whose shares partially or entirely, directly or through a third party, in economic or legal ownership, are owned by the country."

The NOCG applies in the event that –in simple terms-a company maintains its statutory seat on St. Maarten and the shares are, partly or entirely, in the hands of the country. To determine whether the NOCG applies, the questions in Figure 4 have to be answered.

Figure 4: determining if the National ordinance Corporate Governance and the application procedure are applicable for government-owned companies

In order to answer the questions in Figure 4, we studied the articles of incorporation of the companies. If the answer to any of the first three questions is 'no', the NOCG does not apply. The results of our findings are presented in chapter 4.

3.3 (CO-)DECISION AUTHORITY OF THE MINISTER

What does (co-)decision authority mean and which minister is authorized?

The country is the shareholder in the case of a government-owned company.<sup>26</sup> The ministers are designated as representatives of the shareholder.<sup>27</sup> When the articles of incorporation stipulate that the shareholder is entitled to appoint a board member, the decision authority of the minister is established. In the case of foundations, the decision authority is also derived from the articles of incorporation.

The NOCG does not specify what is meant by (co-)decision. We define (co-)decision to mean that the minister is a part of the decision-making process. The minister does not have unilateral authority, for example, in the case of a company with multiple shareholders. In our opinion, article 9 of the NOCG, regarding appointment of board members, is unclear.<sup>28</sup> An amendment to the law that clearly stipulates the minister's authorities is recommended.

Annex 1 contains information about the (co-)decision authority of the responsible minister for each company and foundation.

<sup>26.</sup> National Decree of October 23, 2013, no. LB-13/0820, National Gazette of March 21, 2014, year 2014, number 6. Verification by the Department of Legal Affairs & Legislation indicates that there were no formal amendments to the National Decree.

<sup>28.</sup> We also find article 8 of the National ordinance Corporate Governance to be unclear regarding the procedure on profiles.

3.4 THE CORPORATE GOVERNANCE CODE

There is a Corporate Governance Code for St. Maarten (hereafter: the Code). This Code is an important element in terms of CGC's advisory role.<sup>29</sup> The Code states that:

"The Island Territory shall institute a Corporate Governance Council, which shall inter alia be in charge of advising the General Shareholder's Meeting relative to the appointment of Supervisory Directors and Managing Directors of the corporation"

The NOCG and the Code differ on the topic of decision authority. The NOCG mentions the prerequisite of a (co-)decision authority of the minister. The Code does not contain the prerequisite for establishing the existence of a (co-)decision authority of the minister. We are of the opinion that the regulations of the NOCG apply because it is a national ordinance. The Code is of a lower order.

3.5 THE PROFILE- AND APPOINTMENT PROCEDURE

The minister must seek the advice of the CGC in cases where he has a (co-)decision authority for:

- the appointment or nomination of a board member; and
- 2. establishing a profile.

However, the CGC prefers that the minister refrain from intervening in the process of determining the profile. Establishing the criteria of a profile often requires technical knowledge Moreover, the CGC believes that the minister should not play a role when amending existing profiles, unless he is specifically requested to do so by the entity in question.<sup>30</sup> CGC qualified this statement later during the audit. In correspondence received from the CGC, they state that profiles are best drafted by experts and that experts can be appointed by the minister. In that sense, the minister does have a (limited) role, according to the CGC.<sup>31</sup>

The Minister of General Affairs reacted on the position of the CGC regarding the intervening of ministers in the process of determining the profile. According to the minister, there is insufficient awareness of the financial interests related to government-owned companies and foundations, for which there is political responsibility and accountability. To secure the financial interests, the politically responsible government must be certain that these interests are addressed during the process of determining the profile.<sup>32</sup>

Although the subject matter varies (profiles and appointments), the procedures are identical. Figure 5 illustrates both procedures.

<sup>32.</sup> Reaction of the Minister of General Affairs, dated September 8, 2016, with reference number: 11087/16B.

Within a week after issuing an advice to the minister, the CGC sends a copy of their advice to Parliament. The drafters of the law have included a control mechanism for Parliament by virtue of this requirement.

3.6 THE ROLE OF THE COUNCIL FOR FINANCIAL SUPERVISION

Appointment of board members is an element of financial management. We believe that it is important to carefully deal with ministerial influence in the appointment of members of boards or councils. Government-owned companies are, after all, not political playthings.

Ultimately, public funds must be handled honestly, carefully and professionally. The appointment of board- or council members must occur based on established regulations. The current NOCG foresees in such rules, but cannot prevent political appointments.

The possibility of political appointments forms a risk<sup>33</sup>:

"Where no clear and responsible rules are present, or compliance with those rules is not sufficiently monitored, financial disasters can take place. Issuing authorities and capabilities to a person without a good system of 'checks and balances', can lead to excesses.

As such, the guiding and advisory role of the Cft should not be underestimated. The Cft's objective is to improve financial management.<sup>34</sup> Administrative appointments fall within that scope.<sup>35</sup> Based on information derived from the advices and reports issued by the Cft, we determined that corporate governance has previously received attention.

<sup>33. &</sup>quot;Good governance on Sint Maarten: will it be a long or a short road from paper to practice", mr. Karel Frielink, BZSE Attorneys at law.

Though we were unable to determine whether the Cft specifically reviewed the profile- and appointment procedures, the Cft maintains that corporate governance is of great importance, given that a significant portion of the economy is placed in government-owned entities.<sup>36</sup>

Government, however, did not achieve the desired level of compliance in 2015.<sup>37</sup> Partly for this reason, we believe that the subject of administrative appointments deserves closer attention, including from the Cft. This study could encourage such activity.<sup>38</sup>

According to article 19, paragraph 3 of the Rft, the CFT can issue recommendations based on, among others, the findings mentioned in this report.

4. THE AUDIT RESULTS

This chapter contains the findings of our audit. We present the cases where the appointment procedure and the profile procedure are applicable. In addition, we discuss the instances where we could not secure information.

4.1 THE NUMBER OF ENTITIES REVIEWED

For this audit we investigated a total of 27 entities. Specifically, 11 foundations and 16 companies. There is one single supervisory board governing the Harbour holding and its 12 subsidiaries. For the purpose of this audit, they were considered as a single entity. We apply the same approach when reviewing Telem. For that entity, there is one single supervisory board for the holding and 4 subsidiaries. These subsidiaries can be found in annex 2.

The NOCG is applicable on 18 of the 27 entities. In 3 cases it is not.<sup>39</sup> At 6 entities (4 companies and 2 foundations), we were unable to determine whether the NOCG was applicable due to the lack of information.<sup>40</sup>

We now go over to the discussion of the (co-)decision authority of the minister. Based on the articles of incorporation, we determined that the minister has a (co-)decision authority regarding the appointment of board members for 14 entities. This means that the CGC must provide advice regarding appointments for these entities.

In terms of establishing profiles, the articles of incorporation indicate that the minister has a (co-)decision authority in 3 cases. The CGC must also provide advice in these cases. <sup>41</sup> Figure 6 depicts the results.

Figure 6: The number of companies and foundations reviewed

	Reviewed		Authority of the minister regarding appointments
Companies	16	11	9	3
Founda	11	7	5	0
Totaal	27	18	14	3

As far as we are able to determine, profiles have been drafted for the Harbour and Telem Holding.<sup>42</sup> We are unaware of profiles for Postal Services St. Maarten.

It is the prerogative of the entity –in keeping with the articles of incorporation and relevant internal regulations– to establish a profile for board members. We did not examine whether the profile procedure, beyond the articles of incorporation, was declared applicable or drafted. We consider the drafting of profiles as a good practice.

<sup>40.</sup> It concerns the following foundations: Government Opvoedingsgesticht en de Stichting Sport Ontwikkeling. For the companies it concerns: Marven N.V., Saba Bank Resources N.V., C-Post N.V. and DC-ANSP. We did not receive information regarding these companies.

<sup>41.</sup> Correspondence between CGC and Parliament, dated November 21, 2012, where the companies are listed for which profiles were drafted.

We found entities that drafted profiles even though their respective articles of incorporation do not include a (co-)decision authority for the minister. An example of this is Winair. Our results are shown in Figure 7.

Figure 7: Companies where the minister has a (co-)decision authority and where the profile procedure applies

Companies	Profile applicable?	Profile drafted?
Harbour Holding	Yes	Yes
Telem	Yes	Yes
Winair	No	Yes
PSS	Yes	unknown

We received information indicating that draft profiles were created for the PJIA Holding Company, and for the CGC as well.<sup>43</sup>

4.2 ADVICE OF THE CORPORATE GOVERNANCE COUNCIL

A remaining question relates to the number of cases in which the CGC provided advice. To answer the question, we requested that the CGC provide us with all previously issued advices. In addition, we consulted CGC's annual reports for the period 2010 through 2014. We also formally requested the same information from Parliament.<sup>44</sup>

Let's start with the foundations.

The appointment procedure applies in the case of 5 foundations. We were not able to obtain the names of the supervisory board members of 3 foundations.<sup>45</sup> Our results are illustrated in Figure 8. For more detailed information, we refer to annex 1.

Figure 8: Number of advices issued by the CGC, regarding administrative appointments within foundations

Foundations	Persons with advice	Persons without advice	Total number of persons
VKS	1	4	5
SBDF	0	3	3
FUSF	unknown	unknown	unknown
SOG	unknown	unknown	unknown
SMMC	unknown	unknown	unknown
Total	1	7	8

The profile procedure is, according their respective articles of incorporation, not mandatory for any of these foundations.

<sup>43.</sup> Derived from the letter of the CGC addressed to Parliament, dated November 21, 2012, where inter alia for the draft profiles for the PJIA Holding and the Corporate Governance Council, are mentioned. We were unable to determine whether those draft profiles have since been established.

Next, we discuss the results related to the companies.

The appointment procedure applies to 9 companies. We chose to disregard the Luchthaven Veiligheid Financiering Maatschappij N.V., because it is dormant.<sup>46</sup> Therefore, a total of 8 companies were reviewed. The appointment procedure was properly applied at 2 companies. Specifically, the Harbour Holding N.V. and Winair N.V. Our results are shown in Figure 9.

Figure 9: Number of advices issued by the CGC, regarding administrative appointments within companies

Companies	Persons with advice	Persons without advice	Total number of per- sons
Harbour Holding	3	0	3
Winair	3	0	3
Gebe	12	2	14
PJIAH	1	4	5
PSS	unknown	unknown	unknown
SM EDC	unknown	unknown	unknown
SLS	1	5	6
Telem Holding	1	4	5
Totaal	21	15	36

Combining the results of figures 8 and 9 shows that CGC advices for 22 of a total of 44 persons were not available for review.

4.3 A LACK OF TRANSPARENCY

When government is a shareholder, a representing minister may be authorized to (co-)decide on the appointment of a board member. That authority can be misused. The appointment procedure must be transparent. The Common Court of Justice ruled as follows<sup>47</sup>:

"(...) In any case, after the appointment, the responsible parties should be able to give insight in the nature and manner in which the appointment procedure was conducted (...) and furthermore should be able to substantiate why the particular candidate was chosen."

<sup>46.</sup> According to the Chief of Administration of PJIA, in an email dated May 18, 2016.

<sup>47.</sup> AR 1215/07-H-505/09 (third-party proceedings). In the case (see verdict of February 11, 2008 no. 2007/594), that this verdict was based on, the Court noted that it was not clear why the Executive Council deviated from the public application procedure, as proposed by the STIP (the equivalent of the CGC in Curaçao). The Court identifies a purely political appointment, partly because the person in question had not even applied for the position, nor was it established whether the person was suited for that function. The Court ruled to revoke the decision, which was in conflict with good governance, citing the need for reasonableness and fairness. With that ruling, the appointment was reversed.

Our findings paint a worrisome picture. The Minister of General Affairs shares our concerns.<sup>48</sup> We were unable to review 22 CGC advices related to appointments. As such, one of the main objectives of good governance is disregarded. Specifically, the ability to guarantee the transparency of the appointment process. As we have indicated in our report: "Baseline Study Sint Maarten, state of affairs institutional integrity management 2014" (hereinafter: Baseline Study), the Audit Chamber considers integrity (and therefore the transparency of the actions of the Minister), a prerequisite for confidence in government.

During the conduct of our audit, we received a limited amount of information. We therefore conclude that while ministers regularly highlight the importance of integrity, in practice, little factual information is made available. The desire for transparency and integrity -vital to corporate governance- is in reality, marginal.

The fact that we cannot determine whether our recommendations, as published in the Baseline Study, will receive follow up, suggests a course contrary to good governance.

4.4 OTHER FINDINGS

A few of the more findings are worthy of specific mention.

The chairman of the CGC was appointed on May 14, 2014.<sup>49</sup> The CGC chairman was possibly also a member of the supervisory board of Sint Maarten Laboratory Services (SLS) during his tenure at CGC. Correspondence from the SLS indicates that he was a member of the supervisory board until October 2014.<sup>50</sup>

We received a response from the CGC on this matter. From the time that the SLS member was aware of his impending appointment as chairman of the CGC, he informed the remaining members of the SLS board. Involvement in meetings and/or decision-making within the supervisory board of the SLS ceased from that moment.<sup>51</sup>

Based on the reports from the SLS and the CGC, we were not able to unequivocally establish whether the chairman CGC served simultaneously as a member of the supervisory board of the SLS. In the event there was an overlap, we would have preferred that the chairman sever all ties with government-owned companies, upon appointment to the CGC.

The articles of incorporation of Gebe N.V. were amended on April 8, 2014. The maximum number of members allowed on the supervisory board was changed from 5 to 7. The notarial deed references the National Decree no. LB-12/0916 in terms of the authority of the responsible minister. 52 We note that this National Decree was revoked as of March 22, 2014, in accordance with article 8 of the National Decree of October 23, 2013, number LB-13/0820.53 Article 8 of this National Decree states the following:

"All authorization decrees, including the National Decree dated December 14, LB-12/0916, to represent St. Maarten as a shareholder, approved prior to the entry into force of this decree, are revoked."

We are of the opinion that the notarial deed of April 8, 2014, refers to a National Decree that was revoked as of March 22, 2014. What this means for the legality of the deed is outside the scope of our audit.

The minister of General Affairs reacted on this subject. In his opinion, the reference in the notarial deed has no direct legal consequences on the legality of the deed.<sup>54</sup>

- The articles of incorporation of the Harbour Holding Company, dated August 10, 2009,<sup>55</sup> indicate that the supervisory board must consists of at least 5 members or a maximum of 7 members. Since 2014, the supervisory board is comprised of 3 members.<sup>56</sup> The supervisory board is responsible for the holding company and all 12 of its subsidiaries.
- The oath of office stipulated in article 7 of the National ordinance General Audit Chamber, does not match the oath as stipulated in article 77 of the Constitution. Because the Constitution is of a higher order, the members must take that oath.
- There are persons who were/are supervisory board members while employed by government. Conflicts of interest are possible. We addressed this matter in our Baseline Study.<sup>57</sup> Half of the respondents in our study were unfamiliar with the rules.

<sup>55.</sup> We did not receive verification during the audit as to whether these are the most recent articles of incorporation.

5. OUR EPILOGUE

We follow a specific protocol during the conduct of audits. At the conclusion of the investigation phase, we present our findings to the parties in question. Those findings are placed in a draft report, which we refer to as a Memorandum of Findings. The ministers and the CGC received the Memorandum of Findings on August 18, 2016, in order to verify the results. The Cft and VDSM also received a Memorandum of Findings based on information specific to them.

All parties were granted ten working days to provide a response to the Memorandum of Findings, in keeping with our protocol. Only the VDSM and the Cft responded within the time allotted.

In light of the limited response, we decided to extend due date by five working days. During that extension, we received a response from the Minister of General Affairs and the CGC. Based on the responses, which we value, we amended our draft report. Unfortunately, no responses were received from other ministers.

In this epilogue, we wish to emphasize that the provision of information is essential to the conduct of audits. One of the goals of our investigations is the identification of shortcomings within government, as well as the presentation of practical recommendations towards the improvement of the government apparatus. This approach requires cooperation.

We made this point clear during our individual introductory meetings with ministers. At these meetings, every minister cited the importance of our work. The lack of response to our requests for information is therefore that much more regrettable.

Nevertheless, we were able to collect the information we needed. This report is evidence of that effort. We wish to express our appreciation to the organizations and entities named in this report for their cooperation.
